YOU CAN HELP FIGHT FRAUD!

Members of the National Association of Credit Management have the means at their immediate disposal to help fight fraud—their checkbooks and the Association's Fraud Prevention Department. The latter serves every member by coordinating the facilities and programs of 120 affiliated associations around the country, and it also works closely with all federal and local investigative agencies in detecting and apprehending fraud.

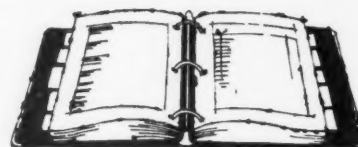

Support it, by participating in your local association's fraud prevention committees, and by sending a check today payable to: National Fraud Prevention Department, National Association of Credit Management, 44 East 23rd Street, New York 10010.

CREDIT AND COLLECTION PRINCIPLES

A 26-week self-study program... designed for

The man or woman new to credit work

In his own time the student can follow a planned program for learning the essentials of credit and collection work. Descriptive material is drawn from broad experience of mature credit executives.

ADVANCED CREDIT ANALYSIS

Completely revised home study program which concentrates on financial analysis.

Credit personnel at intermediate levels as well as managers will benefit from this course.

Analytical ability will improve with increased knowledge. Cases are used to illustrate various analytical techniques.

A copy of the revised Credit Management Handbook is also furnished each participant to serve as an additional reference.

National Institute of Credit
44 East 23rd Street
